
Subject: Give Me 1 Week and You Could Capture 81% in Citigroup

A couple weeks ago, I alerted you to an incredible opportunity to capture BIG profits in Citigroup.

At that time, my Quick-Hit Trader subscribers had already banked SIX wins in the financial institution, including FIVE winning trades with an average 95% profit in 7 days.

- 97% profit, Citigroup Oct 27 puts, 6 days
- 38% profit, Citigroup Jun 38 puts, 14 days
- 92% profit, Citigroup Aug 39 puts, 7 days
- 95% profit, Citigroup Oct 28 puts, 20 days
- 94% profit, Citigroup Sept 29 puts, 1 day
- 96% profit, Citigroup Aug 38 puts, 2 days

And it's exactly why I urged you to join us at Quick-Hit Trader risk-free.

Because I was expecting to grab yet another winning trade as Citigroup shares fell even further.

If you weren't listening then, I hope you are now.

My Quick-Hit Trader subscribers just locked in their SEVENTH win in Citigroup. They booked a 57% profit in the Dec 29 puts in 8 days.

But as you'll see in my original alert below, Citigroup's run of bad luck is far from over. And here at Quick-Hit Trader, we plan to profit every time shares tick lower. I invite you to do the same.

So read my original message below. Learn exactly why Citigroup's shares have much further to fall. And ensure that you capture our next BIG win in Citigroup by taking advantage of our special HALF OFF savings event.

Why Citigroup Is
MY NEW FAVORITE STOCK

Fellow Investor,

The charts of the big banks are downright ugly right now. Which makes these stocks the perfect investment in this market. And here at Quick-Hit Trader, we're making a mint from the king of ugly, Citigroup.

We have traded Citigroup to the downside 5 times in a row. Every time, we've banked a quick profit of more than 90%. It doesn't get much better than this...

- 92% profit, Citi Aug 39 puts, 7 days
- 96% profit, Citi Aug 38 puts, 2 days
- 94% profit, Citi Sept 29 puts, 1 day
- 95% profit, Citi Oct 28 puts, 20 days
- 97% profit, Citi Oct 27 puts, 6 days

But this well is far from dry. We're going to go back—over and over and over again—until we soak up every last profitable drop.

Here's Why:

The European banking system is in trouble with a capital "T."

"There has been a lot of talk about French banks, but the problem is very widespread. No banking sector in the world can sustain a generalized loss of confidence..."

We're about to see if the International Monetary Fund's European Head is correct.

European financial giant Dexia recently revealed that its exposure to Greek sovereign debt is worse than previously reported. It now has plans to sell off operations to stay afloat. This comes just 3 months after it received a clean bill of health from European bank stress tests.

The Financial Times has labeled Dexia the next Bear Stearns, whose collapse was the first major casualty of the 2008 financial crisis. Recently, the governments of France, Belgium

Joe Burns here, and if you are searching for the RIGHT way to profit in this manic market... boy have you come to the right place! My "Keep It Simple, Stupid" (KISS) strategy gives you 3 easy-to-follow steps for booking BIG profits in simple options trades. In fact, my Quick-Hit Traders who have followed our strategy to a "T" have just booked 19 winning trades in just 7 weeks, including:

- 407% profit, Estee Lauder Nov 105 calls, 7 days
- 123% profit, Agrium Nov 80 calls, 4 days
- 122% profit, ARM Holdings Nov 30 calls, 7 days
- 177% profit, Netflix Nov 105 puts, 14 days
- 182% profit, Open Table Nov 45 puts, 7 days

And today, you have the opportunity to know exactly when to jump on Citigroup for our next big profit at HALF OFF the regular Quick-Hit Trader subscription price.

and Luxembourg agreed to bailout Dexia by nationalizing 100% of Dexia's Belgian bank.

The similarities to the last global financial meltdown are clear:

- Europe's top banks are invested heavily in Greek sovereign debt, and Greece is just days from default.
- The IMF predicts that 200 billion euros are needed to shore up European banks, but most analysts think that figure is laughably low.
- Deutsche Bank and UBS are both projecting "weaker than expected" results in 2011, and these are the "strong" banks in Europe.

We now have the perfect recipe for a massive financial collapse in Europe.

Banks Are Headed Down, Down, Down

What did we learn in the 2008 financial crisis? We're all connected.

If Europe's major banks collapse due to a Greek default, you can bet that it will be felt around the globe. No major financial institution will be spared.

We've already seen this play out in our most recent Citigroup trade.

At the end of September, European banks rallied for 3 days on more unfounded hopes that a Greece solution was in the works. Citigroup shares followed suit.

But I knew that momentum would be short-lived.

I pounded on the table for my Quick-Hit Trader subscribers to scoop up Citigroup puts so we could profit when the bailout talks fell apart.

Just as expected, European banks sold off sharply on more Greek fears.

Our Citigroup puts handed us a quick 97% profit in just 6 days.

You can bet that it will happen again. Every rally back to Citigroup's 21-day moving average will be met with strong resistance. And the stock will roll over once again.

And here at Quick-Hit Trader, we'll be right there waiting with our hands out to grab the next 90%+ profit.

Make sure you don't miss out. Join us today.

And it happened again with our latest trade in Citigroup. Shares had pushed back above all resistance levels as investors drank the European punch.

But the hangover—Italy's dismal bond sale—brought everyone back to reality, and Citigroup's stock broke its 50-day moving average again. We grabbed a 57% profit in 8 days in the Dec 29 puts.

Our Trading Advantage

I'm Joe Burns, and my nearly 20 years of helping investors like you profit in any and every market has taught me one thing:

Don't rely on a rising stock market for profits.

The reality is the market isn't going to make it simple and easy. The market is a tough nut to crack. But you can still make SERIOUS MONEY—in a bull or bear market.

You just have to play individual stock set-ups.

It's exactly what we've done here at Quick-Hit Trader with our FIVE trades in Citigroup—95% average profits in 7 days. And it's how we locked in 19 winning trades in 7 weeks, including...

- 407% profit, Estee Lauder Nov 105 calls, 7 days
- 123% profit, Agrium Nov 80 calls, 4 days
- 103% profit, Research In Motion Nov 21 puts, 17 days
- 85% profit, First Solar Nov 50 puts, 8 days
- 122% profit, ARM Holdings Nov 30 calls, 7 days
- 93% profit, Open Table Oct 45 puts, 5 days
- 177% profit, Netflix Nov 105 puts, 14 days
- 74% profit, First Solar Oct 65 puts, 5 days
- 182% profit, Open Table Nov 45 puts, 7 days

SAVE HALF!

... for an average 95% profit in just 7 weeks!

But this is just the beginning. There is A LOT more money to be made over the next few months in short and long trades.

Let me show you how to get started now.

Our 3-Step KISS Strategy

First, you need to simplify your trading strategy. You don't need to spend hours upon hours each day on your trades to capture 95% average profits.

You just have to "Keep It Simple, Stupid."

That's our mantra at Quick-Hit Trader, and it's led us to not only 19 winning trades for 95% average profits in 7 weeks, but also 50 DOUBLES in the past 15 months, including...

- 163% profit, Lululemon May calls, 23 days
- 113% profit, Caterpillar May calls, 16 days
- 106% profit, Riverbed Technology January calls, 14 days
- 102% profit, Priceline July puts, 3 days
- 102% profit, Deckers Outdoors March calls, 15 days

And I guarantee if you follow these 3 simple steps, you'll be on the winning side with us:

1. Look at sales and earnings growth from the past 3 quarters
2. Follow the chart lines that really matter: 10-day, 21-day and 50-day moving averages
3. Identify the characteristics of a true breakout (or breakdown): consolidation, high volume and gap up (or down) trading

It's as simple as that.

With our KISS strategy here at Quick-Hit Trader, the best-of-the-best stocks—for long or short trades—practically reveal themselves.

Best of all, when you join Quick-Hit Trader, I do all the work for you and just give you the exact trades that you need to execute for maximum profit.

Let me show you just how easy it is.

Take Our 5 Recent Citigroup Wins, for Example

I think we can agree that the European financial crisis has all banks on edge. But which stocks do you trade for maximum profits from this situation?

My 3-step Quick-Hit Trader strategy revealed that Citigroup was perfect for shorting.

Citigroup's numbers have been dismal the past three quarters with revenues down 6% in the fourth quarter 2010, earnings falling 32% in the first quarter and revenues down 7% in the second quarter (step #1).

What Are Quick-Hit Traders Are Saying...

"Joe, just have to tell you SINA was a great call (Alert). You really nailed it! My first options trade ever and I made over 100% — Great way to start on options trading... Thanks!"

"Keep up the good work Joe, you are doing great in this very difficult market!"

"Joe, I wanted to make you aware of the exciting results I've realized after just one week (2 trading days) on board. I already realized a profit of $2103. Netting a 58% return. I'm also sitting on unrealized gains of 25% for PCLN and 73% on the VMW calls. As you can imagine, I'm very pleased with these results."

Shares also gapped down sharply on heavy volume and broke their 50-day moving average (step #2 and #3).

So when my Quick-Hit Trader subscribers bought the Citi August 39 puts on July 11, they sold them just 7 days later for our first 92% profit.

Then we revisited the stock on July 25 when the stock tried to break back through its 50-day and 200-day moving averages. It was rejected at both points on no volume. We scooped up the Citi August 38 puts and sold only 2 days later for a 96% profit.

On August 17, we went back to the well once again when Citigroup attempted to break through its 10-day moving average on little volume. We grabbed the Citi September 29 puts and captured a 94% profit in 1 day.

We were rolling in the profits a fourth time when banks were crushed in Europe in September. We bought the Citi October 28 puts on September 2, and they handed us 95% profit in 20 days.

And five days later, Citigroup's stock bumped up against its 21-day moving average. We grabbed the Citi October 27 puts on September 27, and as shares once again fell off a cliff, we banked a 97% profit in just 6 days.

How was that? Darn good!

You simply cannot afford to miss out on our next Citigroup trade. Join us at Quick-Hit Trader today, and I guarantee you won't.

What's Even Better: Citigroup Is Not Alone

Along with our 5 successful trades in Citigroup, we've also banked BIG gains in other high-flying stocks that have fallen off a cliff. And I'm expecting to go back to those wells over and over again, too.

I'm talking about Open Table, Netflix and First Solar.

- 117% profit, First Solar Oct 80 puts, 2 days
- 93% profit, Open Table Oct 45 puts, 5 days
- 85% profit, First Solar Nov 50 puts, 8 days
- 86% profit, Netflix Oct 125 puts, 9 days
- 63% profit, First Solar Nov 60 puts, 5 days
- 75% profit, First Solar Oct 65 puts, 5 days

We now have 7 Citigroup wins! Our first came in early June, just at the start of Citigroup's breakdown. We banked a 38% profit in the June 38 puts in just 14 days.

And that turned out to be the beginning of an incredible windfall—as we went on to capture 5 90%+ winners and the most recent 57% profit.

That's 7 Citigroup wins for an average 81% profit in 8 days.

Join Today!

- 115% profit, Open Table Oct 50 puts, 2 days
- 177% profit, Netflix Nov 105 puts, 14 days
- 182% profit, Open Table Nov 45 puts, 7 days

These stocks' charts are broken.

So you can bet that anytime these stocks rally back to their resistance levels, I'll immediately alert my Quick-Hit Trader subscribers to short them again.
